

MIBLSI

Michigan's Integrated Behavior
and Learning Support Initiative

When considering implicit and explicit bias, having an understanding that we are influenced by our socio-historical context is important. From birth, there are structures such as the ones in the diagram that imposes ideas, beliefs and values on us that we often are not aware of.

